

Home Security Comparison

DO-IT-YOURSELF

VS

TASCO SECURITY

Customer support is a phone number, a website chat or worse just an email. Most likely you'll be referred to someone that has zero real-world security experience.

CUSTOMER SUPPORT

Our customers receive 24/7 365 access to trained, professional customer support as well as around the clock alarm monitoring services.

Installation is left up to the homeowner. Do you have the right tools, technical know-how, knowledge of home security best practices and WiFi networks? If not, you will be in trouble.

INSTALLATION

A professionally trained alarm technician will install your security system and ensure it is operating correctly. Your home's security is in good hands with the experts.

The only reassurance you have is the confidence in your abilities. If your installation is done incorrectly or your alarm is not installed in accordance with local ordinances, you can be on the hook for fines or may be denied homeowners insurance claims.

PEACE OF MIND (INSURANCE, WARRANTIES, COMPLIANCE)

Our professionally trained, certified and licensed alarm techs will install, set up and monitor your security system ensuring everything is done in accordance with local ordinances. We keep your technology up to date giving you peace of mind your home's security is in good hands.

If your security hardware is installed incorrectly your homeowners insurance may deny a claim. You must also update all software on your own and monitor your wireless connections.

HARDWARE/SOFTWARE

Tasco Security only utilizes the latest, state-of-the-art hardware that is professionally installed to code, trusted and proven. We proactively ensure all software is updated when necessary and continually test to make sure your system is always performing flawlessly.

Both monitoring and maintenance are left up to you and if not installed correctly you may have to pay for false alarms and or be denied insurance claims.

MONITORING & MAINTENANCE

We utilize a UL-Listed, professionally trained monitoring station manned by security professionals. They can monitor for alarms, temperature changes, fire and more.

Home security is a partnership, not something left to chance, cheap marketing and slick packaging.
This is why you can count on Tasco Security to give you peace of mind.
